BUSINESS PROFILE

A municipal government responsible for the smooth operations of a city, including operating recreational centers, police and fire departments, a museum, public works and more. The city employs approximately 200 workers.

BUSINESS NEEDS

As with many government operations, this city had fallen behind in its technology infrastructure. Much of the hardware and software in use was grossly out of date, but budget constraints were an issue. Additionally, some of the management was highly resistant to change.

"...thanks so much for a job well done!"

SOLUTION

We performed an in-depth network, hardware and software inventory, and we conducted interviews with all major stakeholders and users. The resulting detailed assessment, along with recommendations, enabled the IT manager to obtain management support for needed change.

BENEFITS

Based on our recommendations, the city was able to vastly improve their infrastructure, along with implementing a strategic plan to update all software used by the city over the following few years.

This has resulted in a much more stable, easier to support environment, along with increased employee productivity and satisfaction.

The IT manager was very pleased with the results of the assessment: "I never would have been able to push these change requests through council without your well written assessment – thanks so much for a job well done!"
